itical issues at the polls in the State election next autumn, judging by the entiment now being expressed up-State. The professional politicians and the general public are dividing inter est about equally between the liquo problem and candidates.

Democrats and Republicans alike had been skilfully scouting the liquo question, all hoping it would drop ou of sight as a campaign issue. But the Anti-Saloon League's declaration against William M. Calder, United States Senator, and wet Representatives has dumped the issue into the sides appear to be willing to accent it. There is little doubt that the Congress contests will be fought out Republican leaders, even in the dry districts, have reported as a first reaction to the Anti-Saloon League's leclaration of war on Calder that there s everywhere an insistent demand that the Republican State platform declare unequivocally against the Vol-gauging sentiment on candidates and personalities in the early stages of the campaign brought out the situation regarding the liquor question. There is widespread opposition to the bonus raid and every candidate for election or reelection to the House of Representatives will be called upon to declare his stand on that issue.

Concerning candidates, the situation in the Republican organization up-state is all dependent on what Gov. Miller does. There is a movement on foot in several of the counties to force the nomination on him whether he says he wants it or not. If he runs the entire State ticket will be renominated, leaders say, if he does not the stage of the says he wants it or not. If he runs the entire State ticket were prosent and there was no opposition to the ticket.

In the platform adopted the party asked for the abolition of the State constability, the election of judges by the propple and an insurance for the against loss of stock and products.

A resolution asking President Harding to free political prisoners was also adopted.

will be called upon to declare his stand on that issue.

Concerning candidates, the situation in the Republican organization up-State is all dependent on what Gov. Miller does. There is a movement on foot in several of the counties to force the nomination on him whether he says he wants it or not. If he runs the entire State ticket will be renominated, leaders say, if he does not, there will be a hard fight for nearly every position and an entirely new ticket and a new deal all around.

On the Democratic side the situation grows more complicated every day. W. R. Hearst is holding the center of attention. Judged by the declaration of leaders in at least a score of counties, the Democrati corsanization up-State does not want Hearst but will accept him if nominated. The leaders, while expressing positive dislike for Heart, say he would be a strong candidate, as he would attract all the dissatisfied element and much is heard on all sides about unrest and dissatisfaction.

The up-State Democracy wants Alfred E. Smith to run for Governor but the belief is that he will not. There is much talk about a compromise candidate and the name heard most often in that connection is Robert F. Wagner, Supreme Court Justice. Some leaders declare Hearst and Smith would kill off each other. On the Democratic side the situation

No one has given serious thought to Mayor Hylan as a candidate for Governor, leaders say. No one excepting Hearst has suggested Hylan, as far as known here.

One decisive factor in the Democratic situation, party leaders say, is the almost universal opposition ow women all through the State to Hearst and all his policies. Even the dissatisfied man upState is a conservative when he approaches anything which he believes is tinged with Socialism. The woman is even more so. And the up-Stater generally has been taught to believe that Hearst's doctrines are Socialistic. It is understood that some of the Democratic leaders who oppose Hearst most bitterly are quietly apreading propaganda tagging him as Socialistic.

The Republican committee in Onondaga county will meet probably within a week, and the expectation is that it will declare formally for the Governor. It is customary for the committee from the candidate's home county to start the bail rolling by calling for his renomination. It is probable that a delegation from Onondaga will go to Lake George as soon as the Governor is settled in his new summer home and inform him he must run and that Mr. Miller then may make a speech declaring his position.

Charles D. Newton, Attorney-General, is named most frequently as a possible nomince if Mr. Miller is out. H. Edmond Machold, Speaker of the Assembly, also is said to be a receptive candidate.

The effect of the Anti-Salcon League's

The effect of the Anti-Saloon League's live on Senator Calder so far has been of force the liquor issue to the front rather than to weaken Calder. His resonnation is regarded as almost certain. Ting out, but that is regarded as a remote possibility.

Even ardent advocates of prohibition are disgusted with the operation of the Volstead act, judging from all reports. The latter cities all through the State strongly against the Volstead law, leaders of both parties declare, and are demanding some kind of beer an' light wine bill. It is for that reason the Republican organizations in the cities are advocating that the State Convention take a firm stand on the subject. There, one doubt the Democrats will do so.

One of the things that is hurting Hearst's candidacy in Albany, Syracuse, Buffalo and other cities is that the regu-

Two of the welfare laws passed by the last session at the Governor's request establish the juvenile courts and establish child welfare boards in every county. Nothing has been done by the Miller administration which has won more general approval.
